This email provides you with the information required to complete the paper and submit it for inclusion in the proceedings.

Please read carefully. Here are the steps you must follow:

A. Camera-ready copy of your manuscript

1. You are requested to strictly follow the Springer Proceedings template available on the conference website for the preparation of the Camera-ready copy of your manuscript (final draft).
2. You need to prepare a "Reviewers Response Sheet" as per the reviews received. Incomplete "Reviewers Response Sheet" may lead to the omission of your paper at any stage of the publication process. For any such rejection, conference organizers will not be held responsible.
3. Plagiarism check will be initiated before the final production stage. Your paper is provisionally accepted subject to the acceptable level of plagiarism (20% excluding bibliography). Hence, you should not append/edit the accepted manuscript other than the reviewer's comments.
4. Your paper will be professionally copy-edited by the Conference as per suggestions of the reviewers. The Editors/Publisher reserves the right to modify the paper without disturbing your concept.
5. ICVMWT2024 requires that the submitted manuscript is solely from the author's own work and not from the work of others unless explicit permission has been granted. This includes text, figures, and tables. Information from published articles must always be cited explicitly. Proper citation is to give the credit to the work that is originally published, not to follow-up work or reviews. Citations should be given close to the information within the sentences or at the end of the sentence, not after several sentences or near the end of the paragraph. All re-published figures and tables should explicitly indicate the original source. Plagiarism in any form will be the sole responsibility of the author(s).

6. You need to fill a "Copyright Form" as per the template.

B. Registration Details

1. For each paper, the author(s) have to pay a separate registration fee.
